Allies Sweep Toward Cambodia: 50,000 Troops Launch Biggest Drive Of War

SAIGON (AP) — At least 50,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops are sweeping between Saigon and the Cambodian border in the biggest operation of the Vietnam war, the U.S. Command announced today.

Elements of six divisions and two special task forces moved out Monday in an ambitious maneuver designed to regain the initiative seized by the Viet Cong with their countrywide assault on Jan. 30.

The allied force has killed 215 enemy soldiers, seized 22 suspects and uncovered three huge arms caches, spokesmen said.

Anchored On Saigon
U.S. losses were reported as 11 killed and 94 wounded, while the Vietnamese Command said its troops had suffered light casualties.

The vast operation—named Quyet Thang, or Resolved to Win—is anchored in Saigon and extends in a semicircle through five provinces north, west and south of the capital.

Fifty allied battalions have been committed plus support troops and national police units. It is the first significant operation uncoordinated by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, since Viet Cong forces invaded Saigon Jan. 31 and turned the city into a battlefield.

Start Coordinated
While the first goal of the operation is to destroy enemy units that continued harassing attacks around Saigon, a second aim is to restore a sense of security and confidence among the shaken civilian population, officials said.

For the first time in the war, sections of Saigon were included in the battle plan of an allied offensive, search-and-destroy operation. National police and units of the 5th Vietnamese Ranger Group were assigned objectives in western Saigon and Cholon, the Chinese quarter of the capital.

The force for the operation includes units of the U.S. 1st, 9th and 25th Infantry divisions, the South Vietnamese 5th and 25th Infantry divisions, task forces of Vietnamese paratroopers and marines, the Vietnamese Ranger group, and national police units.

Generally, the various units kicked off the coordinated action from areas to which they have been assigned for the past year.

Find Arm Caches
A U.S. spokesman said soldiers of the U.S. 1st Division killed 28 enemy soldiers in two engagements Thursday near Ben Cat, 25 miles north of Saigon. Three American infantrymen were wounded.

Viet Cong caches containing tons of ammunition and weapons were discovered only 10, 12 and 24 miles northwest of Saigon. Elsewhere, Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners shelled allied posts below the demilitarized zone, in the central highlands and in the Mekong Delta.

In the air war, U.S. Navy pilots flew over Haiphong to bomb a vital railroad-highway bridge and a power plant for the second day in a row.

McCarthy Looks For Bobby Bid Before Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, convinced Sen. Robert F. Kennedy plans to join the Democratic presidential race soon, is moving to head off the New Yorker in the remaining preference primaries.

"I think he will announce before Monday," McCarthy told reporters Thursday, "unless the reaction is bad" to Kennedy's statement he is reassessing whether to challenge President Johnson.

McCarthy aides said the timing of his Thursday announcement that he will enter primaries in Indiana May 7 and South Dakota June 4 was prompted by Kennedy's statement and a desire to get into these states ahead of any possible Kennedy candidacy.

Three Primaries
"It certainly has that effect," McCarthy told a reporter.

The Minnesotan said he expected Kennedy to challenge him in Nebraska May 14, Oregon May 28 and California June 4.

Kennedy was faced with having to decide today about the Nebraska contest in order to meet the filing deadline.

Sparkler Ban Is Tabled In House

LANSING (AP) — Bills introduced to lower the barriers to interfaith and interracial adoptions and to make county burial benefits available to servicemen in Vietnam were approved by the House Thursday.

Measures requiring fences around junkyards and outlawing sparklers were defeated Thursday, but were reconsidered today. The junkyard bill was returned to committee and the fireworks measure was tabled. Also passed were bills allowing servicemen on leave to drive with expired licenses, protecting tenants of public housing projects, and making it a misdemeanor to help or conceal a runaway youngster.

The approved bills now go to the Senate. Endorsed 79-15 was a measure introduced by Rep. Johannes Kolderman, R-Wyoming, which deletes an existing provision that a preadoption investigation take into consideration the "racial, religious and cultural backgrounds" of the

Copper Talks At Slow Crawl

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations in the eight-month-old nationwide copper strike are moving at a crawl despite administration hopes that shifting them to Washington would produce settlement.

"Our people are out walking around just looking at the trees," a representative of Phelps Dodge Corp. said Thursday.

The Phelps Dodge bargainers have almost withdrawn from negotiations since the unions turned down a 40-month, $1.07-an-hour contract increase. After the rejection, federal mediators suggested a compromise but this time it was the company's turn to say no.

Phelps Dodge is only one of four major firms involved in the strike. Ranged against them are 26 unions whose chief goal is to win companywide wage and fringe benefit settlements and common contract expiration dates at all mines and factories of each firm.

child and the prospective parents.

The existing provision does not forbid couples to adopt children of different races or creeds, but advocates of Kolderman's bill said the law might encourage investigators to recommend against such adoptions.

"If the parents want to adopt a kid, I don't see what difference it would make to the court whether they are of different racial or religious backgrounds," said Rep. Raymond Smit, R-Arizona.

Given 86-15 approval was a measure raising existing county-paid veteran's burial benefits from $200 to $300 and making Vietnam servicemen eligible for them. Currently only discharged veterans are eligible.

A bill originally intended to outlaw larger, more dangerous fireworks and explosives but later amended to include common sparklers, was defeated 34-64 after opponents charged it was too restrictive.

Gold Boost To Devalue Dollar

NEW YORK (AP) — What happens to your pay check if the price of gold is increased? Will a car cost you more money?

These are some of the questions people ask when the talk and the headlines turn to the international gold situation.

Economists interviewed by The Associated Press provided these answers to some of the most common questions:

Q—How would a man in the street be affected by an increase in the price of gold from the present rate of $35 an ounce.

A—An increase would mean that the United States had devalued the dollar. At home, pay checks, bank accounts, the costs of domestic products, and real estate would show no change.

The dollar would buy less gold but it would continue to purchase the same amount of goods—housing, cars—as it did prior to devaluation. However, imported goods might cost more.

Q—Could there be detrimental effects?

Why $35?

A—Some economists foresee a breakdown in world trade and commerce, which has been pegged to gold being worth $35 an ounce. If world trade slumps, jobs would dwindle. Over the long run an inflationary trend would develop.

Q—Why is the price of gold held at $35 an ounce?

A—This is the price at which the United States has guaranteed since 1934 to buy and sell gold. It's the keystone of international finance.

Slow Inflation

Q—Would a tax increase stem the gold flow abroad?

A—It would tend to take the steam out of inflationary pressures. It would reduce purchasing power and dampen what economists call an inflationary psychology. People expect price

Senate Ends U.S. Currency Gold Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has sent to President Johnson a bill to lift the 25 per cent gold cover on U.S. currency and free America's gold reserves for use as ammunition in the international financial crisis.

Before the Senate's late-evening 39-37 vote sent the House-passed measure to the White House, the Senate Finance Committee approved an excise tax bill viewed by the administration as another key economic weapon.

The bill would retain excise tax rates on telephones and automobiles at current levels rather than letting them drop sharply. It is aimed at fighting inflation and reducing the federal budget deficit. Senate action on the gold cover bill came as the London gold market—target for a massive wave of speculative buying—announced it would close down today at the suggestion of the United States.

The administration had called for passage of the gold cover bill to provide concrete evidence of U.S. determination to maintain the price of gold at $35 an ounce. The bill would free the entire U.S. gold stock—now about $11.4 billion—to meet international commitments.

Speculators are gambling they can profit by forcing the United States to increase the price of gold.

During debate on the gold cover bill, Republicans promised that the Senate soon will get a chance to vote on a tax increase—pending cut package when the body takes up the excise tax bill.

Before approving the excise tax measure, the Senate Finance Committee defeated 9 to 8 a proposal to boost income taxes 10 per cent and to cut federal spending $8 billion in the year ahead.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-DeL., the author, pledged he would reoffer the proposal in the Senate debate.

High administration officials, at a Finance Committee hearing earlier in the day, refused to support the spending ceiling. They said it was the wrong way to go about cutting federal expenditures.

Call Emergency Meeting Of Gold Pool Tomorrow

WASHINGTON AP — Battling the frenzied wave of gold buying in Europe, the government triggered higher interest rates for American borrowers today and convoked an emergency meeting of representatives of gold pool nations.

In a related move, the London gold market — accepting a U. S. suggestion — did not open today. There was no immediate word on when trading would resume.

U. S. officials sought to stem the gold buying spree, which threatens the very existence of the international money system, in this series of rapid-fire developments late Thursday.

The Federal Reserve Board raised its discount rate from 4.5 per cent to 5 per cent, effective today, in a move designated to fight inflation and restore confidence in the dollar overseas.

—The Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve scheduled a meeting for Saturday in Washington among the seven nations which feed gold to the London market in an attempt to maintain the price at $35 an ounce.

—The United States reasserted its determination to buy and sell at $35 an ounce.

—The Senate backed up this commitment by completing congressional action, 39 to 37, on a bill to remove the 25 per cent gold backing for paper money, thus freeing the nation's entire gold stock of $11.4 billion to back the dollar overseas.

Bank Holiday

In London, Queen Elizabeth proclaimed a special bank holiday for today. The London stock market was closed and Canada raised its discount rate from 7 per cent to 7.5 per cent effective today.

For the United States, the discount rate is now at its highest level since the days which preceded the 1929 stock market crash when the rate hit 6 per cent. It reached its highest level — 7 per cent — in 1920-21.

This is the charge commercial banks must pay for money they borrow from the Federal Reserve System. All other interest rates are pegged upward from it.

The upward move will mean higher interest rates in the economy generally and ultimately will filter through to loans on mortgages, automobiles and other consumer goods.

In suggesting the closing of the London market, the focal point of the buying stampede, the Treasury Department said it had become disorganized and "didn't permit business to be handled in orderly fashion."

The United States contributes 59 per cent of the gold sold on the London market as part of a seven-nation pool.

Meeting Saturday

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board said they invited the central bank governors of the gold pool countries to consult Saturday on "coordinated measures to ensure orderly conditions in the exchange markets and to support the present pattern of exchange rates based on the fixed price of $35 per ounce of gold."

In addition to the United States other gold pool members are Belgium, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom. Among them they have more than $24 billion in gold.

How long the London gold market will stay closed presumably will be worked out at the Saturday meeting.

"It's a bona fide crisis," World Bank president George Woods said of the current picture.

Dollar Periled

Woods replied "Of course it is" when asked at a White House dinner if he thought the dollar was in danger.

The speculative gold buying stemmed from suspicion of paper money in the wake of the

$44.36 In Paris

PARIS (AP) — The price of gold reached $44.36 an ounce on the Paris market today, more than $9 above the $35 price guaranteed by the United States. Wild speculation in Hong Kong sent the price to $40.47 while the London gold market suspended operations under government decree.

France refused to go along with other major European gold dealing nations in action to dampen buying. Normally, the Bank of France intervenes to keep the price just above the $35 dollar figure.

British devaluation of the pound last Nov. 18, a feeling the programs proposed by the United States to end its dollar drain may not succeed and a belief the price of gold might rise.

U.S. officials have called this belief absurd.

The United States contributed $771.2 million in gold to the London market during the last quarter of 1967, which represented its share of gold sales in the first two buying sprees which followed devaluation.

Earlier this week, the Treasury switched another $450 million in gold from the money stock to a special fund at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York where actual sales to foreign governments are made.

Much of this is expected to go to the gold pool.

The increase in the Federal Reserve discount rate is the second since the November devaluation of the pound. The rate moved from 4 to 4.5 per cent on Nov. 20 to help prevent an outflow of dollars to higher interest rates in Europe.

Still Need Tax

When Britain devalued, she raised her discount rate to 8 per cent, where it now stands.

One source said the U.S. increase is only a partial measure. He said the board still feels adoption of the 10 per cent tax surcharge proposed by President Johnson is imperative.

An increase in the discount rate in December 1965 coupled with other tightening techniques raised interest rates to their highest levels in 40 years and dried up the supply of mortgage money.

Housing suffered a recession as a result but experienced a steady recovery last year. Home building and mortgage money are considered most vulnerable in a tight money squeeze.

Interest rates currently, however, are already at near peak levels and the new action could send them even higher.

Forest Service Buys Chicago Lake Tract

The U.S. Forest Service has acquired 1,323 acres (the Chicago Lake tract in Delta County) for recreational use in one of the largest Hiawatha National Forest land acquisitions in recent years.

Located on County Road 442 several miles west of Camp 7 Lake camp and picnic grounds, and just west of old Camp Cooks, the parcel includes Chicago Lake, Vista Lake, portions of Remington and Jug Lakes.

The parcel was purchased from Warren P. Miller of Anderson, Ind. at a price of $220,000. Miller owns the American Playground and Equipment Co., that has extensive holdings in the Nahma area, and is expanding plant operations at Nahma.

Use Is Planned

The new parcel of land will be administered by the Manistique District of the Hiawatha National Forest. The assessed valuation of the tract was approximately $19,000.

The appraised figure is based on present market value, it was explained. The value of lake and recreation properties has been increasing rapidly within the past several years, and a revaluation study was under way when the U.S. Forest Service acquired the Miller land.

The new assessed valuation would have been considerably higher than $19,000. The basis for assessment in Michigan is 50 per cent of market value.

Detailed plans for the future use of the area are not yet completed. Most likely they will include provisions for camping, hiking, hunting, fishing and boating.

Chicago Lake is considered an ideal potential campsite. The lake is relatively shallow, and is no more than 20 feet deep in any spot, and covers 160 acres. Four small islands dot the southern end of the lake.

Northern hardwoods and swamp conifers occupy the majority of the parcel.

Special Funds

Vista Lake is 18 acres in size, while Remington Lake, which is 80 per cent included in the purchase, occupies 36 acres. The Jug Lake part of the purchase includes frontage along the west shoreline that can be used for public access.

The tract was purchased with Land and Water Conservation Funds that come from the collection of National Forest entrance fees, such as are collected at Camp 7 Lake, Little Bass Lake and Colwell Lake.

Only lands that are important historically, or used for the management of wildlife, and lands with recreational potential are purchased with these funds.

Recreation Resource

Fishermen will find bass, northern pike and panfish in the lake. A small stream called Eighteen Mile Creek passes through the tract and is known to contain trout. The area offers deer and bear hunting terrain that appears excellent. It also appears to be a favorable hunting area for grouse and other small game, including waterfowl.

"The Chicago Lake tract was purchased with the purpose of providing an additional outdoor recreation resource for the people of Upper Michigan and visitors to our peninsula," the Forest Service announcement said.

"It is hoped that you will enjoy making use of its lakes and lands, and that you will assist the Forest Service in maintaining the area so others to come can enjoy the area as well."

THE CHICAGO LAKE TRACT is located north of Isabella in Delta County and was purchased by the Forest Service from Warren P. Miller, the owner of Nahma, where Miller's American Playground & Equipment Co. was established more than a decade ago. The lake area was purchased by Miller at the time he bought the Nahma properties.

Banded Raven Reports Sought

HOUGHTON — The next time you see a raven, direct your thought away from Edgar Allan Poe and toward Michigan Tech.

By doing this you'll be able to help a graduate student in the MTU department of forestry in his study of the common raven's movements.

Because it is necessary to have a specific population for this type of study, the birds on the Baraga Plains have been selected. A cannon net has been employed at a dump in this area to capture birds for marking with colored plastic leg bands.

If you should see any of these marked birds, the forestry department asks that you send a postcard to Eric Mahringer with the following information:

- The location where you saw the bird.
- The date.
- Time of day, to the hour if possible.
- Color of the leg band.

—Your name and address. For this information Mahringer will be grateful — evermore.

Payroll Taxes Dip In State

For the first time in 12 years the unemployment compensation payroll tax assessed against Michigan employers on their 1968 payrolls will not include an "emergency contribution."

The emergency contribution has been paid annually in amounts varying from 0.4 per cent to 0.6 per cent since 1957, in addition to the regular payroll tax for unemployment compensation purposes.

Based upon an $8 billion Michigan taxable payroll in 1968 and the same emergency contribution rate levied in 1967 (0.4 per cent) the eliminated levy would have cost qualified employers some $32 million.

Nothing illustrates the economic resurgence of Michigan since the recessions of 1958 and 1961 as well as the continuing reduction in taxes paid under the Michigan Employment Security Act; 1967 was the first year since 1956 that the state payroll tax for unemployment compensation purposes has been below 2 per cent of taxable payroll.

Taxable payroll up to 1963 was the first $3,000 paid to each worker by his employer in a calendar year. Beginning with 1963, the taxable payroll has included the first $3,600 paid to a worker by his employer in each year.

For the years 1960 through 1963, the tax was nearly 3 per cent. In 1967 it had dropped to about 1.6 per cent, and for 1968 the average payroll tax is estimated by the Michigan Employment Security Commission at 1.3 per cent of taxable payroll.

In 1958, unemployment in Michigan was higher than almost anywhere in the country. Michigan paid its workers over $320 million in unemployment benefits and the money available for benefits appeared to be in danger of running out. As a result the state borrowed $113 million from the federal government to insure that the Michigan workers would continue to receive benefits.

In 1961 the state experienced another year of very high unemployment and benefits paid to Michigan workers exceeded $200 million.

Since the late 50's and early 60's, the story has been different. The automobile industry has apparently completed its decentralization, and during the past seven years the Michigan share of the automobile industry has remained about constant at between 43 per cent and 45 per cent of the total employment of the industry in this country, and in recent years this share has actually increased slightly.

Despite the fact that the Michigan Employment Security Commission has repaid a very large part of its obligations to the federal government, the amount available for the payment of benefits at the end of January 1968 was more than $584 million, of which only $31 million represented an obligation to the federal government.

Morse Election Tied To Youths

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Voters still in their cribs when Wayne Morse was elected to the U.S. Senate 23 years ago may hold the decision on whether he keeps his office.

Robert B. Duncan, 47, former congressman, is in the May 28 Democratic primary against Morse. He has captured much of the regular party leadership. He has broken into what he calls "the solid phalanx of Morse labor support."

As a result Morse, 67, is looking for new faces.

"The ground we will be plowing will be the 21-35 age group," said Charles Brooks, Morse's executive assistant in Oregon.

The general belief is that on Vietnam alone Morse will dominate the votes of young people.

University of Oregon students held a mock election last month and in the Democratic primary Morse got 1,378 votes, Duncan 351.

If the campus balloting has significance it is this: An estimated 50 per cent of the university's 13,200 students are old enough to vote.

And about one in every five Oregonians of voting age is under 30.

Duncan is a staunch supporter of the administration's role in Vietnam. Two years ago he ran for the Senate against Republican Mark O. Hatfield and the war was a major issue. Hatfield, a critic of the administration, won.

Morse, also a critic of the war, refused to campaign for Duncan.

That set the stage for this year's Democratic primary fight. Many party regulars still are nursing their anger against Morse. Many think his refusal cost the Democrats a seat in the Senate.

The campaign, even in its early stages, has had overtones of great bitterness.

Most observers say the election now seems close but they expect Morse to win. Some say he will win by a substantial margin.

May 28 will be the day for the answers.

The winner then will face state Rep. Robert Packwood, 35, unopposed bright rising star of the Republicans, in the fall.

French See P&H Cranes Perform

BY JEAN WORTH

When Harnischfeger truck crane workers create a big crane it goes off to Tampa or Marseilles and they never see it perform nor meet the men who run it.

On Thursday P&H workers saw 25 Frenchmen who own and operate Harnischfeger cranes in France on a tour of the truck crane plant here and at a demonstration of Harnischfeger cranes.

Foreign visitors are a commonplace at the Escanaba truck crane plant of Harnischfeger, but this was a bit unusual because of its size and its position of leadership in France's heavy hauling and lifting and construction contracting industries.

Philippe Pere of Hy. Bergerat, Monnoyeur & Cie., which is Harnischfeger's sales representative in France, accompanied the tour, along with Andre Cesar of B&M. Both are of Paris and most of the group were from the Paris area.

French System

Perier said that the French tax system encourages the ownership of heavy equipment like truck cranes by contractors, rather than rental of such equipment from pools, as in American industrial practice, but that the system is changing. "We are not fleet owners, we French," said Perier, "but we feel that as time goes on we will develop in the United States pattern. Our firms are getting larger, like they are here."

In Paris the building code restricts construction of buildings to historic heights in order to keep a uniformity of architecture that has a cash value in France's appeal to tourists, but in the outskirts of Paris and other large French cities, there's a lot of high rising building and this is a job in which truck cranes are in lively competition for the lifting jobs with tower cranes, which are popular in Europe.

Stiff Competition
"We are promoting mobile units," said Perier, "and they are favored because of the time requirements for completing buildings. Construction time can be shortened. France is building apartment houses at the rate of about 400,000 living units a year; most of them in the Paris area. Paris now has a population of 3 million and metropolitan Paris 10 million. "Foreign imports like Harnischfeger cranes must compete with French-made truck cranes. In the last 10 years two or three manufacturers of excavators and crawler cranes have developed machines up to 50 ton capacity.

"The Harnischfeger 60 and 70 ton cranes are popular; we have a 100-tonner in use on the Riviera and we hope to have a 140-ton crane on order later this year.

"Most of our competition is from French, English and German cranes. Harnischfeger, of course, manufactures cranes in Dortmund, Germany. We have about 10 Escanaba-made P&H truck cranes in France and about 100 Escanaba-made P&H cranes from Milwaukee and Germany.

New Crane Shown

"The European safety regulations make it very difficult for American manufacturers to compete with those in Europe. In France, for instance, the ratio of load to running cable and break strength cannot be lower than 6 to 1 and in the United States it is 3 to 1. In Germany it is 7 to 1 and in Italy 7 to 1. It is easier for big machines to meet the requirement but it involves basic redesign for some machines.

The French group were the guests of Harnischfeger all day Thursday in plant tours and demonstrations of a 70-ton P&H truck crane with 130 foot boom and a 120-foot jib and of the new R125 rough terrain mobile crane prototype. This new crane has 12 1/2 ton capacity and is an all-hydraulic unit.

The guests had lunch at the House of Ludington Thursday noon and a cocktail party and dinner (with French wines) at the Ludington last evening. They left this morning on a North Central Airline charter flight for Milwaukee and a visit to the Harnischfeger main works.

"Our most delightful visit was in Escanaba," said one member of the party. "No one talked about Charles DeGaulle."

Schaffer Gets New Business

A new business — Schaffer Welding, Blacksmith & Repair Shop — has been established in Schaffer by M. L. Smitley. Smitley, a native of Montana, moved to Delta County in April, 1966, from Pinckney where he had operated a general repair business. His wife, Gertrude, is employed by Marble Arms, Gladstone.

Smitley said the new business will be operated from his shop behind his residence. He said he plans to erect a larger building later this year.

Services include welding jobs, blacksmith work, silver soldering and other general purpose welding and repairs.

Briefly Told

Escanaba police issued a traffic court notice to Louis G. Lamprecht, Kingsford, for disobeying a stop sign.

Joseph T. Mileski, 19, of 1220 N. 21st St., is at liberty on $25 bond for his appearance on a charge of being a minor in possession of beer. Escanaba police arrested him at 10:01 p.m. Thursday in the 100 block, 1st Ave. N.

The Harris Township Fire Dept. will hold its annual meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday at the fire hall in Perronville. All township residents are invited.

State Police of the Gladstone Post issued traffic summonses Thursday to Otto Reinholdson Jr., Rte. 2, Rapid River, no operator's license; John Trombley, Rte. 1, Gladstone, speeding, and Louis Trembley, Rudyard, speeding.

Teamsters OK News Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Striking Teamsters at the Detroit News voted today to accept a new three year contract offer which might be a key to settlement of the city's 121 day old newspaper strike. The vote was 336 to 194 and came after the Teamsters had twice rejected a virtually similar offer from the Detroit News.

Teamsters at the Detroit Free Press, who were not on strike but claimed they had been locked out, accepted the offer last month.

Sources close to the negotiations to end the long dearth of newspapers in the city had expressed hope the Teamster settlement of a $30 increase spread over the life of a three year contract would provide a pattern for settlements by a dozen other newspaper unions.

Publishers of the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press said in a joint statement:

"Publication could and should be resumed quickly despite the fact that four other unions just recently struck the newspapers. To this end, the newspapers are working out a schedule of meetings with the newspaper unions for the purpose of negotiating new contracts which are satisfactory to all parties."

College Degree Requirements Are Reviewed

The Board of Trustees of Bay de Noc Community College Thursday night approved changes in degree requirements at the college.

Dr. William Butt, academic dean, said that the revisions generally will allow for a "somewhat greater flexibility" so that students can meet requirements for the associate degree awarded by the Community College and also be assured of qualifying for the first two years of all bachelor's degree programs at four-year institutions.

In other action, the Board acknowledged receipt of scholarship gifts from the Escanaba Daily Press, the Emily C. Lemmer Memorial, the Escanaba Business and Professional Women's Club and Northern Service Bureau.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, college president, also reported that the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Escanaba has notified the college that its grant for the coming year will be increased to three scholarships.

Rinehart added that a number of scholarships are coming in now and that the college has been notified of others which are expected in the near future.

MANISTIQUE Board Approves New Ventilating System In MHS

The Area School Board gave the go-ahead to Hoholik Bros. and the Johnson Service Company of Appleton to begin work on a new ventilating system for the high school at Wednesday night's school board meeting.

Ronald Hoholik advised the Board that the new system will cost $12,200. This figure includes all material and labor provided by Hoholik's and the Johnson Company.

An additional $150 was approved for an interlock with fire-alarm system.

Hoholik's plan to begin work on the new system in about three weeks. Approximately three months will be required to complete the job.

The present ventilating system was installed in 1916. The board left it advisable to replace the old system rather than contract for repairs which offered no guarantee of continued, dependable service.

Work-Study Given OK
A work-study grant from the Dept. of Education in the amount of $5,773, requiring 25 per cent local participation, was approved. The program will provide employment opportunities within the county for students who are planning a vocational program. Mrs. Lee Pappas will handle the administration of the program for clerical and custodial employees who will work in the schools.

A driver training program will begin for 30 to 35 students as soon as final arrangements can be made.

Supt. Edwin Wuehle said he had received several applications from speech therapists and recommended establishing a speech correction program. Cost of the program would be borne by 75 per cent state participation and 25 per cent from the Intermediate District. The Board approved the recommendation.

Set Negotiations
The superintendent was authorized to allow early dismissal on Friday afternoon so that students might attend the Manistique-Iron River tournament game in Marquette Friday evening. School buses will transport the students with volunteer-approved drivers.

A request from certified employees of the school system asked that a meeting date be set for negotiations. A tentative date of March 26 was set. Board President Denton Nelson and Ralph Gillam will represent the board in negotiations with the certified employees.

A special meeting to review the proposed budget was set for March 20.

hints from Heloise
By HELOISE CRUSE
Dear Folks:

This is strictly for fresh, green bean lovers. There's nothing like 'em when they are cooked with bacon grease, ham hock, etc. We all know that.

But while I was snapping some one night, it dawned on me that nearly every meal the Chinese prepare has a delicious dish of something sweet and sour. So when I was ready to cook the two pounds of fresh green beans, I tried something new.

I put in one level tablespoon of sugar and one tablespoon of vinegar to the water I had covered them with. Then I added one chopped onion.

After cooking them the usual way... you talk about something lush.

Sweet an dsour green beans! Whoever heard of that before? Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have a helpful hint for mothers with babies. Playpens are usually low and when a mother goes to put her child in, or take him out of the pen, she has to bend over.

Local Board Shelves Food Stamp Program

A food stamp program to help low-income families in Schoolcraft County has been temporarily shelved because the local welfare office does not have facilities to administer the program.

At Wednesday night's Welfare Board meeting David Nordin, director of Schoolcraft County social services, recommended against inauguration of such a program because his office space is inadequate. The board concurred with his recommendation.

Nordin and his staff of seven presently occupy 551 sq. feet of space in the basement of court house. This is far below the minimum 1050 sq. feet of space recommended by the State Dept. of Social Services.

Nordin has asked the Schoolcraft Board of Supervisors to provide his department with larger quarters. Three of the supervisors were in attendance at Wednesday night's meeting: Mervin White, chairman, Thor Reque, and Leonard Walters.

If adequate office quarters are not found by October, Nordin said that federal participation in welfare programs might be jeopardized.

Under the food stamp program a typical family of four with a budgeted food allowance of $100 would pay $72.00 for food stamps and receive stamps redeemable for $96 in locally-approved grocery stores. This would mean a $24 increase in buying power. Hopefully this additional money would allow low-income families to increase the quality of their diets.

Currently 300 recipients are receiving surplus food issued monthly through the Social Services Dept. The food stamp program would replace the surplus food program.

Week Of War Kills 509 Yanks

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. death toll in the Vietnam war topped 500 last week for the third time in four weeks, the U.S. Command reported today.

The command said 509 Americans were killed in combat and 2,766 were wounded last week, compared with 542 killed and 2,191 wounded the previous week.

In the week of Feb. 11-17, the number of Americans killed was the highest of the war—543. There were 470 killed in the week of Feb. 18-24.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported 418 government troops killed last week, 1,199 wounded and 98 missing or captured. This was a sharp rise over the week before, when 139 were reported killed, 779 wounded and 92 missing.

The U.S. Command reported that allied forces killed 4,335 of the enemy last week, while the South Vietnamese said 5,327 were killed and 488 captured. Discrepancies in the report of enemy casualties by the two commands is not unusual.

The report raised total American combat casualties in the war since January 1961 to 19,760 killed, 120,101 wounded and 1,087 missing or captured. Nearly half the wounded—56,437—did not require hospitalization.

Hog Cholera Hits Downstate Farm

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's only reported outbreak of hog cholera, which can be fatal was confined Friday to the farm of Irvin W. Steffens of Sharon Township, 20 miles west of Ann Arbor.

Dr. G. S. Eversole of the State Department of Agriculture said about 500 of a herd of 2,000 have died on the Steffens farm.

The mortality rate has been about 50 a day.

Eversole said the disease was traced to a shipment of hogs Steffens received from Arkansas. All farms within a three-mile radius are being checked, he said.

CONTEMPORARY RANCH: Continuous roof gives this three-bedroom ranch the long, low look of contemporary ranch styling. Stone and board-and-batten siding are combined harmoniously. Front porch and windows that open like awnings enhance all-over appearance.

BY ANDY LANG

The cost of extras in a home is increased when additions are made long after the house is built. And yet we all like to save where we can in the initial construction by leaving an optional item to a later date.

One way of having your savings now and allowing the leeway you will need in the future, is shown in this ranch house designed by Architect Lester Cohen. The convertible area is seen as a porch behind the garage. But with very little change, it can be turned into a family room with a central fireplace, sliding glass doors to a rear terrace and ready access to and from the kitchen or living room. These are assets most persons want in a family room.

In considering living area, the entry foyer must be taken into account. It's a modest luxury that pays for itself in helping to keep the living room "company fresh." Because this room is not needed for access to any area of the house, furniture selection and placement can be as formal as you like. The view window overlooks the entrance porch, offering privacy along with a nice outlook. Access to the service lavatory is a practical idea for guest use. Whether the family room or porch is selected, it's nice to be able to reach the informal area from the living room.

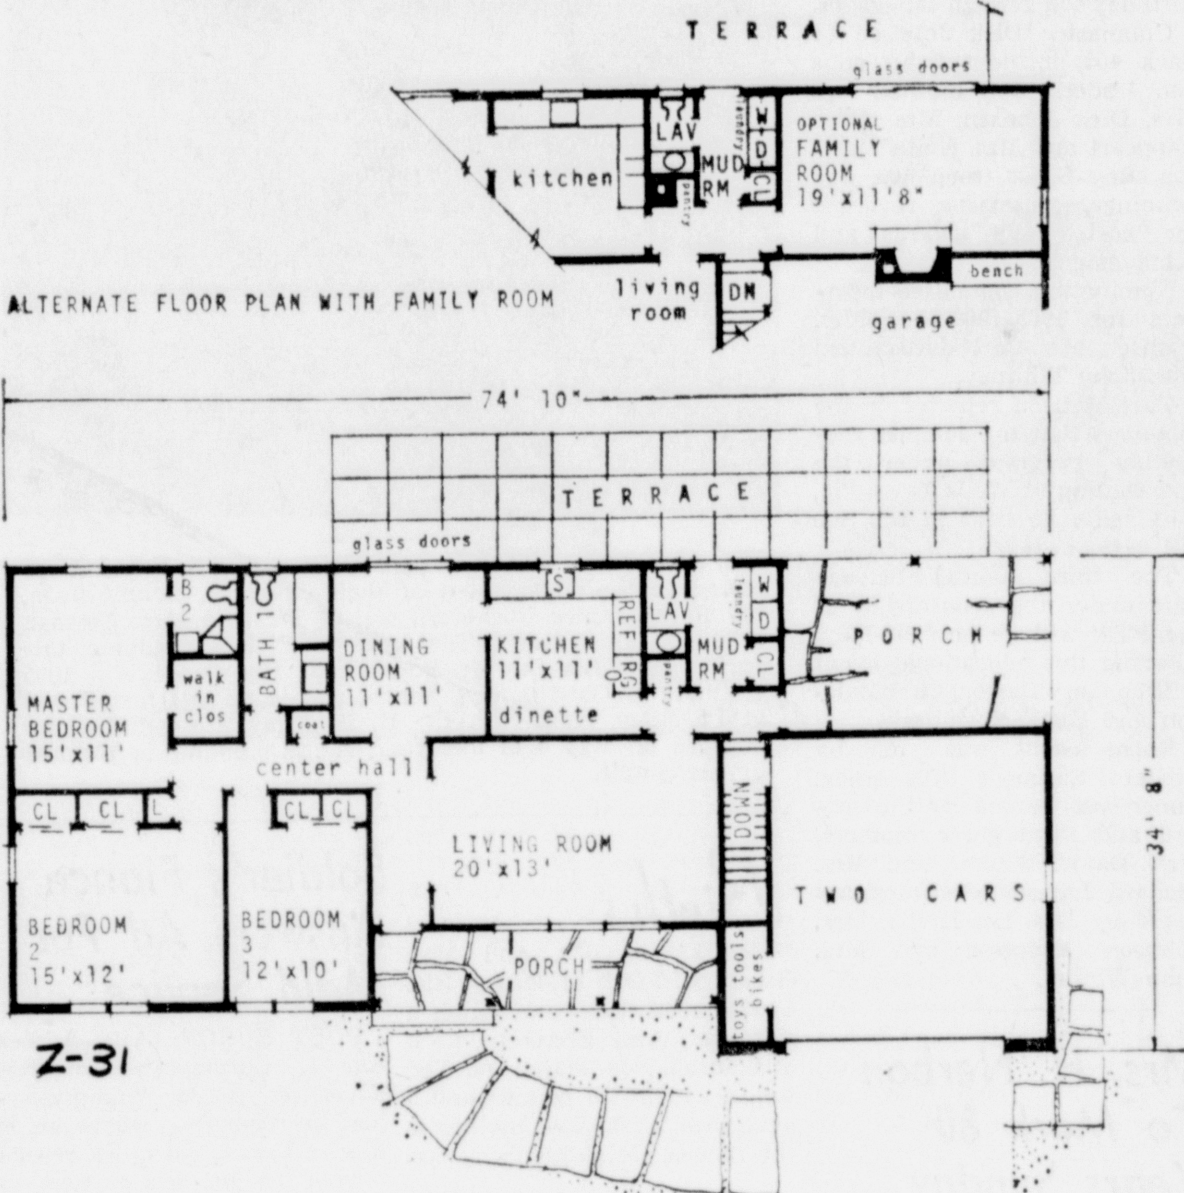

The dining room has just about the same privacy features described for the living room. Sliding glass doors at the back open to the outdoor dining porch in mild weather or present a lovely view at all times. The rooftop porch can be used as an outdoor living area in the summer, or when finished as a family room, can add to the pleasures of an informal living room all year round.

The kitchen, with a corner dinette, is a square, compact and perfect area for all your needs. With the addition of the pantry, lavatory, mudroom and laundry, the kitchen area becomes more than twice as big — yet with individual zones. Each section is easier to keep clean, there is better circulation of air, and each job gets done with a minimum of fuss and with equipment intended just for it. The cellar entry is located with an eye to step-saving, work-saving convenience. You can get to the laundry from the garage, mudroom or porch. Here again a small space set aside for a specific purpose preserves the valuable functions of the larger area around it. For example, no messy hall or kitchen floor to clean when supplies are brought in on a rainy day.

The three-bedroom wing is to the right of the center hall, protected against the activity noises of the living areas. Bedroom 2 could hold two active youngsters without crowding in a family of five. The master bedroom has the rear corner, and with its big closet area and private bath, offers real comfort to the parents. The family bathroom and master lavatory are back to back, plumbing economy worth noting.

Stone and board-and-batten siding are used as exterior materials and are highlighted by awning-opening windows for a pleasant contemporary look.

Time Briefing Is Late; Officials Were Confused

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private congressional briefing on Indiana's complex time-zone problem was delayed 30 minutes Thursday because three Transportation Department officials, confused about the meeting's starting time, arrived late.

"Is it only fair to say you didn't know what time it is?" asked Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind.

"Yes sir," said one of the officials. "We don't know what time it is—either here or in Indiana."

Efforts are under way to settle a dispute in Indiana concerning use of Eastern and Central times in different parts of the state.

JACKSON (AP)—An investigation which launched the recall of more than 6,000 natural gas heaters has drawn praise for Jackson County health officials from the U.S. surgeon general.

Dr. William Stewart applauded the county health department for its investigation after the death of a man last October near Jackson. The probe resulted in a nationwide recall of the heaters.

Colonial Homes Bathed In Color

By VIVIAN BROWN

Your little white Colonial house with green shutters may not be so very, very "period" as you think.

It seems that early colonists just bathed their houses in color—greens, reds, yellows, browns and used two or three colors at that!

Researchers turned up such evidence while poking around at Williamsburg to bring the 18th Century house colors up to date. In addition to the interior paint colors, the Williamsburg restoration now has licensed Martin Senour to produce the first collection of authentic Colonial Williamsburg exterior colors.

The colors were evolved by making minute examinations of particles of paint found in old houses, most of it fresh and bright concealed by moldings or woodwork in little corners. Some colors were put together by observing bill receipts or directives to painters.

Exterior paint colors, like the interior paints, are named for the buildings on which they appear. Some of the restored and reconstructed buildings at Williamsburg have been newly painted in the original colors.

For example, the James Gaddy House is now in its original Colonial blue-gray-green. (Trim, shutters and tiny porch with pillars are painted in Holt's Storehouse Gray, sort of a putty color with greenish cast. Doors and window mullions are painted Nicolson Shop Red—a deep brick red that contrasts well with the muted green and gray.) On the other hand, the body of the Nicolson shop is painted in the deep brick red which flatters its salt box lines. (Trim and shutters are in Nicolson Shop Taupe.)

Many houses were painted red during the 18th Century. Red became a favorite barn color and colonists used the same paint on their houses. They also used brighter reds. Bracken House is in a sophisticated biscuit color with a blue slate trim on eaves, windows and around the front door. Shutters are Bracken House Brown.

Biscuit was a very popular color with many people who did not go for the white house look when it became popular in some areas toward the end of the 18th Century.

There hadn't been much painting of houses before the 1720s in many areas of the country. Many people let their oak, pine, cedar clapboard weather. It was a good look until houses were painted, then it looked dreary by contrast. Later, even white houses used colorful shutters and details, three and four colors.

But even brick houses were colorful during the 18th and 19th centuries when bricks were pink, red or burned to a bluish glaze.

These new colors are drawn from nature's own palette, probably because the early colonists in making their own paints used vegetable dyes, mixing the dyes with milk or other binders. When darker paints were used, the color was obtained from charcoal, soot and so on.

Since the colors are natural shades, they provide an opportunity for houses of different architecture in the same area to be compatible and to blend in with their natural setting. For example, a contemporary house may prefer subtle shades of spring green to blend in with wood, stone, earth, whereas a Victorian house nearby might like a darker color that will tie its massiveness closer to the earth. The two colors can be in harmony even though the architecture of the houses is completely different.

Riot Hearings In Detroit To Start Tuesday

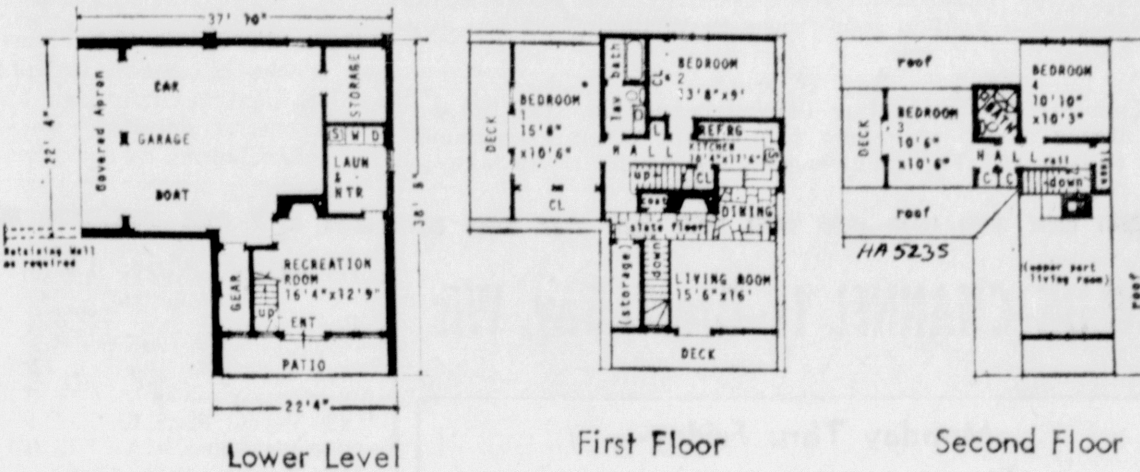

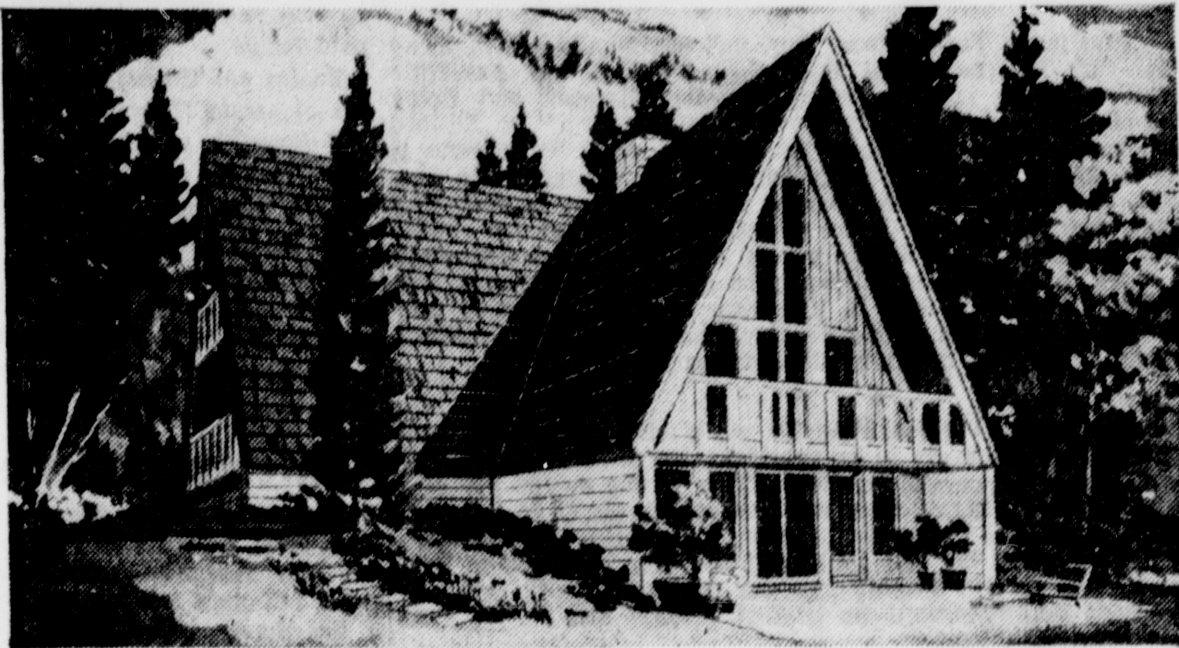

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee will start hearings next Tuesday on last July's riot in Detroit.

The subcommittee has also announced it will examine in depth what it termed "a very serious disturbance" in Detroit a year earlier.

The riot that broke out in Detroit on July 23 was the most destructive and deadly of all the racial disorders that hit U.S. cities last summer.

The subcommittee, under chairmanship of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., was directed by the Senate last August to make a full investigation of the riots and their causes and recommend measures necessary for their prevention.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

THIS UNUSUAL A-FRAME plan adds an L wing to give two bedrooms on the first floor with two more on the balcony level. A living-dining room has one big fireplace and on the lower level there is a recreation room with another. It's a good design for a vacation or year-round home. Living area is 790 square feet for the first floor. Plan HA5235 was designed by Herbert Struppmann, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York, N.Y. 10036.

Forest Menaced By Fire Threat

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's mild winter, with very little snow, has been great for deer survival but is extremely bad as far as the forest fire hazard is concerned.

"This is the earliest that we have had a serious fire hazard threat in years," said Milton Bergman, chief of the State Conservation Department's forest fire section.

Generally, Bergman explained the spring fire hazard index doesn't start rising until mid-April.

There is very little snow south of Clare, he said. Even the traditional deep snow areas, such as around Gaylord and in the Upper Peninsula, have only a light snow cover.

"Already, local fire departments in southern Michigan have been running around putting out brush and grass fires," said Bergman, "and a lot of acreage already has been burned over, but there have been no real serious blazes."

Worst In 50 Years
Keith Arnold, dean of the University of Michigan school of natural resources, told the State Conservation Commission at its last meeting that Michigan is in the worst fire hazard situation it has experienced in the last 50 years.

Vast areas of the state have been reforested. Other timber stands have grown up naturally. The worst fire potential is in the Jack Pine forest area extending from the northcentral part of Kalkaska County to Lake Huron. This belt has a heavy cover of highly inflammable Jack Pine.

It is estimated more than 100,000 people live in this area—some summer resorters but also many year-around residents.

Evacuation Problem
Civil Defense authorities have made a survey of the area and are concerned about evacuating the people if a serious fire breaks out.

This kind of a forest could be hit by a "disaster fire." Dry brush and trees feed the flames until they sweep through the tops and the fire races ahead with almost tornado speed—shooting out burning debris ahead of it on a wide front.

"The fuel is there, the people and homes are there and the danger is there," said Bergman.

Use Spotter Planes
The worst hazard, Bergman said, comes from the urge people have to go out and clean up and burn in the spring.

If a farm fire gets out of control, an entire forest could go on a dry and windy day.

The Conservation Department now has 16 spotter planes it can send aloft to look for the first wisps of smoke that indicate a fire threat.

On the ground, most of the dependance now is on heavy equipment, bulldozers, mechanized plows and pumps that can draw water from the nearest natural source.

Ironically, Michigan's forest fire damage last year was the least on record. Only 2,819 acres were burned over by 871 fires.

Crime Rate Dips In 7 State Cities

DETROIT (AP)—Crimes of violence in seven outstate Michigan cities dropped by three per cent in 1967 even though such crimes were rising by 15 per cent across the nation, the FBI reported today.

In its annual crime report, the FBI listed a total of 3,925 crimes of violence as having occurred in 1967 in the cities of Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Lansing, Livonia, Warren and Dearborn. The agency reported that 4,079 violent crimes occurred in 1966 in these cities.

Detroit continued to report the highest number of crimes in all categories.

The FBI lists crimes of violence as murder, non-negligent manslaughter, forcible rape, robbery and aggravated assault.

Democrats See GOP Rights Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic leaders are banking on support from Republicans—including one declared presidential candidate—in their go-for-broke plan to win passage of a civil rights bill that would outlaw most housing discrimination.

Speaker John W. McCormack urged former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California to help round up the GOP votes.

After two days of intensive strategy sessions which culminated in a two-hour meeting with civil rights leaders and White House officials, the Democratic leadership decided to present the Senate-passed bill as is for a vote. Passage would send it directly to President Johnson.

The leaders rejected an alternative plan to send the bill to a House-Senate conference for agreement on a compromise version. If their original plan fails, however, the conference approach would still be possible.

The procedure agreed on requires a resolution from the Rules Committee, headed by an arch foe of the bill, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss. "I'm not going to do anything to advance this bill," Colmer said. He also expressed doubt the bill's supporters have enough votes to win passage without some changes.

But House Democratic Leader Carl Albert said he expected favorable action by Colmer's Rules Committee next week, with the bill advancing to the floor for a vote the following week.

"I hope that at least 75 Republicans will vote for this bill that is so important to the nation," said McCormack, conceding it would take about that many to guarantee passage.

Discussing the open-housing provision of the measure, Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat who headed the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, told a Senate housing subcommittee that "freedom of residence is essential" for all Americans.

The rush to the 222,000-square-mile North Sea in search of fuel began in 1961 when the Dutch discovered the world's third largest gas reservoir in their own front yard, Groningen Province.

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Charles O'Brien went to the police this week and told them he sure wasn't dead like they said he was.

So O'Brien's house was unsealed, his car unimpounded, and his pet dog sprung from the animal shelter.

It turned out a man found dead in O'Brien's empty house last week was an itinerant who had a heart attack. O'Brien, 54, was at a rest home at the time.

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

Less Talent, More Time? Incredible amounts of time, fantastic amounts of money are being poured into the business of making records. Nine-hundred hours it took to record "Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band" — a, so say some who should know. The Association's new album ran $80,000. In the old days, records could be made in three hours, now-days, they take weeks and weeks. Since the groups can only get the "right" sound by experimentation, they must rehearse in the actual recording studio with expensive equipment at $60 an hour for the studio alone.

There is also a sordid side to the "new" recording trend. One well-known group virtually destroyed a recording studio during a session — drugs are blamed for the violence. The lead singer in a similar group can only perform in an empty, pitch-black recording studio. No one is allowed to watch him — no visitors are tolerated.

Such pyrotechnics and prima-donna antics from young, virtually untrained and untalented "talents" are driving record companies wild. Unless the single or album becomes a hit they lose tremendous amounts of money. Some threaten to stop catering to undisciplined "artists," will start setting up rules and regulations for future recording sessions.

How much machinery does it require to make some groups sound good? How long can mad, mad machinations make up for no talent?

Teens also grow tired of the "phoniness" of the sound of many of these groups — all the dubbing, overdubbing and silly sound effect belie the philosophy of "truth" and "honesty" that the lyrics push. Disillusioned teens find phony recordings almost as disturbing as some of the hypocrisies of the older generations.

Marijuana Party Line: "Pushers" continually punch away that "it's less dangerous than alcohol." Also "pot has little relationship to crime." Police narcotics disagree and decry the all-out effort to cloak its use in "intellectualism." Dr. Edward Bloomquist of U.S.C. School of Medicine says: "Marijuana is an unpredictable drug usually employed by unpredictable persons. If the user is calm when he takes the drug, he may sing and laugh harmlessly. Or he may enter a car, don tea shades (dark glasses to hide dilated pupils) and plow into and through a crowd of pedestrians." Bloomquist goes on to point out that India outlawed the drug in 1959 after centuries of use as part of the religious rites of that country. The Indians didn't make it illegal because of its contribution to progress!

Youth Beat Political Poll: Though a wide majority of teens want Robert Kennedy to be president, the feeling is that LBJ will be the Democratic candidate. Two to one — (56 per cent to 28 per cent). Eighty-three per cent believe the U. N. is a success and that the U. S. should continue to support its existence. A big question: "If you could end the War in Vietnam, how would you do it?" Twenty-four per cent said "Withdraw," 48 per cent said "Continue on present course" and 28 per cent said "Nuclear attack."

Fair's Fair Department: When asked, "Do the Russians and Chinese have a right to send troops to Vietnam?" 62 per cent said YES.

Countess Csarky, leading London beautician, says "80 per cent of her clients are under 20." Claims "even 18-year-olds want to look 15." The countess claims she can't really take off

"years" but that she can hold the (those) line(s) for a full 10 years. What will happen when the 12-year-olds start stopping in?

Kiss-Kiss: Peyton Place heartthrob, Ryan O'Neal says he kisses girls better on TV than in real life cause he's getting paid for it!

Facing up: There's an endless list of young Hollywood males and females who owe their splendiferous profiles to the plastic surgeon's art. Latest thing is to have various parts of face improved by silicon injections — makes weak chins strong and boring cheekbones Greta-Garbo interesting.

Hermansville Upsets Top Rated Panthers In Region 26 Play

MARQUETTE — A fired-up Hermansville Redskin team did the impossible last night in Class D regional tournament action when they upset first-rated Ewen-Trout Creek 81-69.

It was only the second loss of the year for the Ewen-Trout Creek Panthers against 20 wins. The Panthers were considered unrivaled in their category this year.

The Redskins jumped off to an early 8 point lead on three field goals by John Whitens and one by Randy Fochesato.

Hermansville scored 28 points in the first quarter to lead the Panthers 28-17 at the end of the frame.

In the second period Hermansville played even with the Panthers as both teams scored 16 points in the quarter, but the Redskins still held an 11 point lead at 44-33 at the intermission.

Ewen-Trout Creek pulled to within seven points in the third quarter. Hermansville rallied to score 13 straight points late in the third frame and early in the fourth to build their lead to 72-52.

Hermansville was led by scoring ace Fochesato with 31 points, 22 in the second half and Whitens with 29, 23 of which came in the first half. Dick Pole led the Panthers with 22 points and teammate Ken Sain added 16.

Hermansville now meets Painesdale Jeffers in the finals of the Region 26 tournament at 11 a.m. Saturday. Painesdale, which finished the season unlisted in the top ten has already dumped seventh and eighth rated Dollar Bay and Baraga in district play, was victorious over National Mine in last evening's second contest. Painesdale used five free throws late in the fourth period to gather the win. Marc Caspari was the leading scorer for Painesdale as he tossed in 21 points. Gene Otto topped National Mine with 23.

Two Unbeatens Risk Win Streaks

By The Associated Press
Houston and St. Bonaventure, the only unbeaten major college basketball teams in the country, risk their winning streaks as the NCAA national championship tournament resumes Friday night. Both face stern tasks.

The top-ranked Houston Cougars, 29-0, go against ninth-ranked Louisville, 20-6, in the Midwest regionals at Wichita, Kan. St. Bonaventure, 23-0 and third-ranked nationally, faces the No. 4 North Carolina Tar Heels, 25-3, in the East Regionals at Raleigh, N.C.

Nahma Team Wins At Sawyer

The Sawyer Stoll Loggers, an independent basketball team made up of players from the Nahma, Cooks and Garden area, won an invitational basketball tournament at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. The tournament ran over the last two weekends with the final game played on Sunday night, March 10.

The Sawyer Stoll Loggers went through the double elimination tournament without a defeat enroute to their championship. They defeated teams from Negaunee, Trenary and Koski's Corner of Champion. The tournament involved eight teams.

Late Goals Win For Denver U.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Denver University applied the pressure on Boston College goalie George McPhee in the third period and the Pioneers scored two goals in a 4-1 victory in the semifinals of the NCAA Hockey Tournament Thursday night.

Ryun, Lindgren To Run In Meet

DETROIT (AP) — Gerry Lindgren of Washington State faces the task of getting psyched up for fabulous Jim Ryun in the NCAA indoor track and field meet.

Ryun, the nation's top Olympic hope at 1,500 and 800 meters, is skipping the NCAA 880-yard run in which Villanova's Dave Patrick upset him last year.

Instead, the University of Kansas ace will compete against defending champion Lindgren in tonight's two-mile run and will shoot for his second straight mile title Saturday afternoon.

In an 11th-hour guessing game, Kansas Coach Bob Timmons finally scratched Ryun from the 880.

Patrick, whose Villanova squad is favored with Kansas to give defending champion Southern California a tough battle for the team title, expressed some disappointment in not getting another shot at Ryun.

Although Ryun holds the outdoor world record at 880, the mile and 1,500 meters, he bowed to Patrick in the 1967 NCAA half-mile as the Villanova star ran him into the boards in a record 1:48.9.

But Ryun clearly was tired after running a mile trial, a fast half-mile trial and the half-mile final all on the opening day program.

Although Lindgren, trying for his third straight NCAA indoor two-mile title, holds the meet record of 8:34.7 set last year, Ryun shares the American outdoor two-mile mark of 8:25.2.

Southern California, which won last year's team crown with 23 points, returns with two individual champions, football star Earl McCulloch in the 60-yard high hurdles and Bob Seagren, one of three 17-foot pole vault contenders.

Other defending champs include 1,000-yard star Ray Arington of Big Ten champion Wisconsin and Ted Downing of Miami of Ohio, one of three 7-foot high jumpers.

Friday's seven finals include the 35-pound weight throw in the afternoon and the long jump, shot put, 440, triple jump, 880 and two-mile at night. Saturday's closing program includes finals in 10 events.

Tigers Guilty Of Sluggish Play; Losers For Third Straight Time

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Lackadaisical, sluggish play by the Detroit Tigers came under fire Thursday from Manager Mayo Smith, but there were indications his tough talking didn't take hold.

The Tigers lost their third straight game following the closed meeting with Smith and were due to play Philadelphia in Clearwater, Fla., today.

Smith declined to say what he told the Tigers before Thursday's 5-0 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But it was learned that he was upset over the lay of the team in the past few games, particularly mistakes that cropped up from carelessness, especially in the field of base running.

As it turned out, Al Kaline got picked off second base in the loss to Los Angeles following Smith's talk, and the manager later said only, "Al just got caught sleeping."

In recent games, there have been occasions where the Tigers managed only a single out of 380-foot drives, and big hits with the bases loaded sometimes produced only one run.

The Tigers put the leadoff man on base five times against Los Angeles but never got a run out of it. A pair of double plays by the Dodgers wiped out two of those threats.

Denny McLain absorbed the brunt of the Dodger hitting attack, giving up all five runs on seven hits after holding LA hitless for the first two innings. "Denny was throwing the ball too high," Smith said. "He hung a few balls up there and that was the ballgame."

Outfielder Willie Davis led Los Angeles with two hits and two runs batted in.

The Tigers matched the

JOE FRANKLIN, (seated) the University of Wisconsin's scoring and rebounding ace, received a trophy designating him as the Badgers' most valuable player. He won the award last season too. # Yastrzemski Can Expect Going Over From Rivals

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — As a Triple Crown winner, Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox can expect a pretty good going over by American League rivals this year.

Yaz got a hint of things to come early this week when the Chicago White Sox visited Chain O'Lakes Park for an exhibition game.

The White Sox stationed their second baseman deep and toward the right field line, the shortstop moved 20 feet to the right of second and the third baseman shaded the vacated hole at short.

Like Williams, Yaz accepted the challenge. Rather than try to hit to left, Yaz swung away. He ground directly to short the first time up, then went out twice more on easy boppers.

On Thursday the Red Sox broke their three-game losing streak with a 7-1 triumph over the White Sox. Yastrzemski had one hit, but the big blow was Rico Petrocelli's two-run single. Dick Ellsworth pitched effectively for five innings.

Glenn Beckert, Billy Williams and Lou Johnson each drove in a run in a Chicago Cub sixth-inning rally and the Cubs beat California 6-4.

U Of M Regents Continue Talks

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan Regents continue their meeting today amid expectations that they will name track coach Don Canham as the new athletic director.

The board opened its meeting Thursday, with the agenda noting a planned discussion of "athletic department business." Thursday's meeting was closed.

The present athletic director, H.O. "Fritz" Crisler, is due to step down June 30.

Canham, 49, has been head track coach for the Wolverines since 1948. In 1958-59, he was president of the National Collegiate Track Coaches Association.

He coached the Olympic teams of Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika in 1956, serving as a U.S. State Department representative in East Africa for that assignment.

The United States Track and Field Federation was formed in 1962 through the efforts of Canham, Bill Bowman of the University of Oregon and Oliver Jackson of Abilene Christian College in Texas.

Three years later, Canham founded and directed the first National Collegiate Athletic Association indoor track and field championships in Detroit — and has spent much of this week making arrangements for the NCAA meet in Detroit this weekend.

Football coach Bump Elliott earlier had been considered one of the top prospects for the job, but later reports circulated that he was more likely to retain his football post through the 1968 season.

More than a dozen others reported were interested, or contacted in connection with the post of athletic director.

Canham's teams at Michigan have won 12 Big Ten championships and he never had a losing season. In 115 meets, his teams have a record of over 800, and since 1952 his relay teams have broken some American and world records.

In 1940-41, he captained the U-M track team and was high jump champion of the Big Ten and the NCAA.

Flyers Remain On Top In Home Away From Home

By The Associated Press
Philadelphia's home away from home was only so-so, but for Montreal there's no ice like home ice.

The Flyers were chased out of the Philadelphia Spectrum when that new arena began falling apart, so their Thursday night National Hockey League game with Los Angeles was moved to Quebec, home of the Philadelphia American League farm.

After 60 minutes of mostly desultory action, a scoreless tie was the result. The Flyers thus retained their position atop the NHL's West Division, three points ahead of Los Angeles.

The Canadiens, on the other hand, beat the New York Rangers 3-1 in Montreal and moved ever closer to the championship of the East Division. The Rangers and Boston Bruins are now tied for second, eight points behind the Canadiens. Bernie Parent kicked out 32 shots for the Flyers while Terry Sawchuk turned back 20 shots for the Kings. It was Parent's fourth shutout and Sawchuk's second.

Ted Irvine threatened for Los Angeles just as the game was about to end, but Parent made a fine save. Sawchuk made seven saves in the final period.

The Canadiens' victory was their fourth in a row while the Rangers have now gone that long without a win. Gump Worsley's bid for a third straight shutout was failed by Orland Kurtenbach at 7:31 of the final period. Worley had gone 195 minutes and 14 seconds without allowing a goal.

Jacques Lemaire, Claude Provost and John Ferguson scored for Montreal.

Oshkosh In Semi-Final Round Of Cage Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two of the top teams and two that weren't supposed to be around after the opening games meet in the semifinals tonight in the NAIA basketball tournament.

Sixth-seeded Westminster of Pennsylvania, which knocked out Eastern Michigan, 92-84, Thursday, takes on third-seeded Central State of Ohio, which defeated Central Washington State, 66-47.

Upstarts Oshkosh, Wis., State and Fairmont, W. Va., State do battle tonight also. Oshkosh drubbed Drury College of Springfield, Mo., 75-57, and Fairmont outlasted Dickinson, N.D., State, 86-81, in Thursday's action.

Mike Drespling and Russell Boston fired in 18 points each in the first half to give Westminster a 47-39 intermission advantage.

Drespling had 31 and Boston 24 for the game.

Eastern Michigan's Earle Higgins scored 26 while Harvey Marlatt and Kennedy McIntosh tallied 19 each.

Clarence Lane scored 27 points in quarterbacking Central State to its victory over Central Washington.

Ron Hayek, a 6-foot-3 forward from Milwaukee, Wis., dropped in a short jump shot with three seconds left to give Oshkosh a 57-55 victory over Drury College of Springfield, Mo. Hayek's shot wound up a game that saw the two teams literally trade points for the final 10 minutes.

Oshkosh also knocked off top-seeded Guilford, N.C., with a last-second shot and downed Eastern Montana during the week-long, 32-team tourney.

A fantastic second half shooting exhibition by John Jamerson, who hit 10 to 14 shots from the field, led Fairmont to an 86-81 decision over Dickinson, N.D., State. Jamerson, who finished with 34 points, hit his last five shots in a row, staving off a frantic Dickinson rally that saw the losers pull to 81-79 with 1:19 left.

Like Oshkosh, Fairmont upset one of the tourney favorites to make it past the first round. The Falcons clipped fourth-seeded Oklahoma Christian and then defeated little New Haven, Conn.

Housing Bids Favorable; Building To Start Soon

By DAVE ANDREWS

Ground for Gladstone's 50-unit low-rent housing project for the area's elderly citizens is expected to be broken within the next month after bids came in favorably Thursday.

Of nine bids received, five or six were termed "within the budget" of the project by Louis Berone, architect of Nichols & Berone, Inc., of Green Bay.

Apparent low bidder was Nero Construction Co. of Green Bay with a base bid of $596,800.

Berone announced before the opening of bids that the maximum contract which could be awarded was $616,136.

He said that the general contract bidding included electrical and mechanical costs and that the general contractor would be responsible for subcontracting that part of the project. Subcontractors must be specified to the Housing Commission before the general contract will be awarded.

To Sell Bonds

The three-story building will include 48 one-bedroom units and two other two-bedroom units. The exterior will be masonry, stucco and glass.

When construction is completed, the Housing Commission will sell bonds on the public market. The obligations of the bonds are guaranteed by the federal government in the form of an annual contributions contract.

When the building is in operation, the Housing Commission will pay the City of Gladstone 10 per cent of the shelter rent in lieu of taxes. All operating expenses, maintenance and administrative costs will be funded from rents.

If surplus funds are collected, yearly contributions from the Housing Commission will be made to the federal government to assist in retiring the bonds.

Rents will run between $35 and $40 for the apartments.

Bids Listed

Contractors bidding and amounts of their base bids were: Fisher Contracting Co., Midland, $616,762; Cowell & Brosio, Inc., Iron Mountain, $645,560; Proksh Construction Co., Iron Mountain, $615,000; Howard Herrild Builders, Menominee, $610,483; Caspian Construction Co., Caspian, $707,000; Champion, Inc., Iron Mountain, $598,848; McDonald Construction Co., Marquette, $624,000; Nero Brothers Construction Co., Green Bay $596,800, and Olsen & Flath, Escanaba, $613,919.

Cub Pack Holds Saturday Meet

The newly reorganized Cub Scout Pack 471 will hold their first pack meeting at the old High School Gym Saturday at 7 p.m. Don Pavlowski is the Cub Master for Pack 471 and he urges all Cubs and their families to attend this meeting.

Any other boys who are interested in becoming a Cub Scout may attend with their parents.

Pack 471 held their organizational meeting earlier this month and dens have been arranged. However several boys have shown an interest and Den Mothers are needed in order to form other dens as the boys are registered.

Regal Bridal Salon Opens Here Today

Gladstone welcomes its newest business today with the opening of the Regal Bridal Salon at 5 S. 10th St.

Mrs. Rene Maskart is the proprietor of the new establishment which has been completely remodeled and furnished in French Provincial styling.

Brides in the area will have the opportunity to select their gown and attire for their attendants in the most luxurious surroundings they could hope for.

Mrs. Maskart has designed the salon so that the selection of her bridal gown will be a memorable event for the bride to be; from the time she enters the reception room, chooses from the bridal gowns in stock, to the moment she dons her dream gown and enters the "bridal room" to model for her parents.

Cherie Maskart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maskart, and former Delta County Queen, will be on hand today to model some of the beautiful gowns which have been arriving daily. Miss Maskart is a student at Eastern Michigan University but will be home for the weekend to assist her mother with the opening.

The public is invited to view the new salon today and tomorrow.

Panama Chief Trial Ordered

PANAMA (AP) — The National Assembly has ordered President Marcus A. Robles to stand trial March 24 after impeaching him on charges of unconstitutional political activity. Conviction would mean his removal from office if the National Guard, Panama's army, did not intervene.

The assembly impeached Robles Thursday night on a motion by opposition Deputy Jacobo Salas. The vote was not known, but a poll taken earlier showed that the opposition had 30 of the 42 assembly votes lined up.

The vote raised the prospect that the National Guard would step in. The guard's commander, Brig. Bolivar Vallarino, warned that his forces would take all steps necessary to insure "public order." To the anti-Robles faction this smacked of support for the president because Vallarino made no reference to maintaining "constitutional order."

Stock Market Lower Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Gold mining stocks sagged in a cautious and lower stock market early Friday. Trading slowed.

Wall Street awaited further developments following overnight news of steps being taken to meet the gold crisis.

Among the golds, losses of 3 points or more were taken by American South African, Dome Mines and Homestake. Campbell Red Lake lost 2.

Silver miners also retreated from recent gains. Hecla Mines lost 3, Bunker Hill 1.

General Motors, Bethlehem and Montgomery Ward took small fractional losses.

The steam was taken out of the rise by gold, silver and other mining issues. Benguet, the Philippine gold miner was off a fraction while Campbell Red Lake gained a fraction.

Among silvers, Sunshine Mining and Hecla Mining fell about 1½ each.

Czech Minister Takes Own Life

Vladimir Janko, deputy defense minister, took his life Thursday just 24 hours after an urgent Cabinet discussion of the flight of Maj. Gen. Jan Sejna to the United States. Reliable sources said Janko, who won the Order of Hero as a World War II troop commander, shot himself through the head in his apartment.

Both Janko and his boss, Defense Minister Bohumir Lomsky, had been indirectly implicated in Sejna's flight after the general was accused of an illegal deal in sales of grass seed to peasants. The Cabinet hearing had been called for Lomsky to defend himself, and the Cabinet expressed dissatisfaction with his defense.

Earlier Thursday another Novotny supporter, Michal Chudik, a leading conservative member of the party hierarchy, resigned as head of the Slovak National Council. Chudik, 53, had apparently abandoned hope that Novotny would be able to ward off liberal pressures and keep the figurehead presidency.

The Slovaks, who make up about one third of Czechoslovakia's 15 million population, have been pressing hard for liberalization and for greater ethnic autonomy.

Fayette Boy Injures Wrist

A sixth grade student at Garden elementary school suffered a severe injury to his left wrist Thursday afternoon in an accident on the school playground.

Jerry Bouchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Bouchard of Fayette, was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, Manistique, and later transferred to St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette, after reportedly slashing three tendons in the wrist.

The accident happened when his hand went through a window in a school as he was trying to stop a ball. The boy and his parents were driven to Marquette by a school teacher. Jerry remained hospitalized today.

Three supervisors were on the playground at the time of the accident.

Seek Private School Aid Action Speed-Up

LANSING (AP)—Controversy over the hotly debated non-public school aid bill moved Thursday to the House, where the measure is stalled in the Education Committee.

Sponsors of the bill — Reps. Thomas Brown, R-Lansing, and J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City—demanded a public hearing before the March 22 deadline for reporting out bills.

A move appeared forming, meanwhile, to attach the proposal to another bill possibly the public school aid bill when that is reported out of committee.

The bill would authorize state grants of up to $150 per child to the parents of nonpublic school children at an estimated total cost of $21 million a year. Identical versions of the bill have been introduced in both House and Senate.

House Education Committee Chairman Clifford Smart, R-Walled Lake, and Sen. Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo and chairman of the Senate Education Committee, announced earlier this week the bills would be kept in House and Senates committees pending further study.

Both indicated the study would not be completed before the end of the current session.

Voters' Eyes Opened On War, Says Romney

LANSING (AP) — The New Hampshire primary "clearly shows the people now see through the administration's continuous brainwashing" about a Vietnam solution through military escalation, Michigan Gov. George Romney said today.

But, he warned, "people should not be taken in by candidates who play upon their desire for peace without proposing specific positive methods of achieving peace."

The governor was apparently referring to the 42 per cent of the vote cast in the Democratic primary for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., a peace candidate.

Romney said the entry of New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy into the race for the Democratic presidential nomination could create further dissension among Democrats.

"Anything that creates dissension in the Democratic party would help the Republicans," he said, "but I'm quite willing to leave to the Democrats the handling of their own problems."

Madison Sets War Halt Vote

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A referendum demanding that the United States withdraw from Vietnam goes before the voters of Wisconsin's capital April 2, compounding problems of administration supporters seeking a victory for President Johnson in the state presidential primary that day.

So far the only outspoken opponents of the resolution, which got its start in the University of Wisconsin community, are the city councilmen. They voted to put it on the ballot after the city attorney advised they had no choice, then voted 20-0 to urge a "no" vote.

Supporters of the referendum say offers of support have multiplied since Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy won 42 per cent of the vote in the New Hampshire primary Tuesday.

Garden Peninsula

Hal Smith of Sault Ste. Marie spent Sunday visiting his grandmother, Victoria Humbert at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital where she is a patient. Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Thibault of Kates Bay accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jacques of Garden to Green Bay for the weekend. # State Senate OK Riot Bill

LANSING (AP)—A hotly debated bill giving local authorities emergency powers to deal with riots and other public emergencies passed the Senate on a 25-10 vote today.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, one of the bitterest opponents, described the measure "as another example of recrimination and retribution by the white community."

"You act as if you think threats and massive force can remove grievances," added Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit.

The Senate measure now goes to the House, which previously had passed a similar bill.

Supporters of the measure said Thursday it is needed to avoid the bloodshed and violence of possible riots this summer.

Cornell

Farm Bureau
A joint meeting of neighboring Farm Bureau members was held recently at the Cornell Township Hall. Vincent Rapette Farm Bureau insurance agent, introduced Gene Melcier, who presented a movie on the new retirement program offered by the Farm Bureau Insurance Co.

During the minute man report, the five bills now in legislation affecting farmers were noted, including the Sales Tax Exemption Bill for farmers. The Farm Bureau membership drive is also in progress at this time. Lunch was served by the Delta 426 group.

Industrial Park Not For Trailers

A request to the City of Escanaba that it sell land in the industrial park area on the city's northwest side for use as a trailer park is frowned on by the Planning Commission.

Planning Commission Chairman Matt Smith conducted the meeting at which Ronald Lankford, chairman of a subcommittee charged with study in the request, reported against selling city land in the industrial area for a trailer park.

The committee reported it recognized the need for trailer park development, and recommended that a special ordinance be drafted for the control of such developments within the city. It was further recommended by the committee that the taxation or fee for such developments be reviewed to justify revenues to compensate for public services and the cost of education trailer park children in the local schools.

Robert Irwin of Development Services Inc. reported on plans for the downtown business district. Forrest Henslee, member of the Escanaba Foundation, said he had approved the study but said he does not favor the proposed plan because he feels it departs too much from the comprehensive plan prepared for the city by Bartholomew Associates.

The Commission will give further study to a request of Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church to purchase city-owned land as a site for a new church. The request was discussed with Lawrence Pavlick and Fred Lancour, representing the church.

The concept of one-way traffic on alleys between Ludington and 1st Ave. N. from N. 10th to N. 12th Sts. was recommended; as were plans for a parking lot layout at N. 11th St. and 1st Ave. N.

Tabled for study was a request by Robert Carlson, Soo Hill, to buy from the city property near Five Corners; and referred to the State Highway Commission and the Safety Committee were requests of property owners for a change in a street layout south of 8th Ave. S. from S. 23rd to S. 25th Sts. Representatives of residents of the area asked that proposed S. 19th St. be allowed to exit into the highway.
